

DESGN-A-CASTLE, Mary Blair Style!

Mary Blair was an artist, most famous for designing “It’s a Small World” in Disneyland and Disney World. Her style is famous for its use of color and simple shapes.

Parts of a castle to keep in mind:

- moats: a body of water surrounding the castle, used for protection
- ramparts: a defensive wall of a castle having a broad top with a walkway
- turrets: a small tower (usually pointy) on top of a larger tower or at the corner of a building or wall, typically of a castle.
- towers
- look outs
- drawbridge
- gatehouse

Let’s create a castle in this famous designer’s style!
