

Summer Reading Report

Summer vacation is almost over! That means I have to start catching up on my summer reading list. This year _____ gave us a really long list. We have to read _____ books. I know I should have started sooner, but I've been (number)

(teacher)

having too much fun swimming and water _____ at

(verb ending with -ing)

_____ Lake.

(last name)

So far, my favorite book is “ _____ Potter and the Chamber of _____.” _____ Potter goes to a school called

(your first name)

(plural noun #1)

(your first name)

_____warts. Instead of learning math and social studies, the (animal – singular)

students learn things like how to turn _____ into _____.

(plural noun #1)

(plural noun #2)

And instead of getting letters through the mail, the students get their mail by _____ post. _____ Potter's worst enemy is (bird - singular)

(your first name)

a(n) _____ wizard named Lord Volde_____.

(adjective) (singular noun #1)

_____ gets help from _____ Granger

(your first name) (female friend)

and _____ Weasley, who has bright _____ hair. The (male friend) (color)

three friends count on Professor Dumbledore and Professor _____ (female teacher's last name),

who teaches History.

In " _____ Potter and the Chamber of _____,"

(your first name) (plural noun #3)

_____ has to fight an evil plot by Lord Volde_____. But if you want to know what happens, you should read the book. Then you'll want to read the sequel, " _____ Potter and the Prisoner

(your first name) (singular noun #1)

(your first name)

of _____, _____!"

(your city or town) (your state)

Courtesy of: <http://www.eduplace.com/tales/>